General Shake-Up to Take Place in Convict Department

IT IS NOW ESTIMATED THAT TOTAL SHORTAGE MAY POSSIBLY REACH THE AMOUNT OF $200,000.

Montgomery, Ala., March 16.—Radical changes in the convict department are expected momentarily, following the disappearance of Thos. Lacy, chief clerk of the department, leaving an alleged shortage now estimated at $200,000. Whether peremptory removals would be made Friday or any other person implicated in the defalcation was unanswered Friday afternoon by Governor O'Neal.

"I am bending every energy just now in an effort to capture Lacy," said the governor sparing a few moments from a conference with counsel. It was reported that his excellency would probably make changes in the department and it was rumored that J. Craig Smith, former president of the convict board, had been mentioned to assume command of the convict department.

Governor O'Neal is in communication with the Burns detective agency by long distance telephone and before the day is out, it is expected terms will be agreed upon for the employment of Burns men.

That the developments in the convict probe have just started was the impression that pervaded the atmosphere Friday morning with everyone of the state's examiners at the capitol. Under instructions from the governor a systematic investigation of every ramification of the service will be made.

At 2 o'clock the governor was in conference with the seven examiners discussing a plan of procedure. He announced that he will go to the bottom of convict affairs, even to the examination of the books of every contractor with whom the state does business.

Awaiting the arrival of Governor O'Neal in his office there was a lull in the activities of the examiners before noon, but Examiner Crooke was busy receiving reports from various banks in Montgomery and other parts of the state relative to the balances on hand to the credit of the convict department. By ascertaining the total balances some idea may be gained of the defalcation.

STORM TIES UP TRAFFIC ON ALABAMA RAILROADS

Montgomery, Ala., March 14.—Transportation business into Montgomery has been indefinitely suspended because of the damage to railroad tracks by the storms of Thursday and Friday nights. The Mobile and Ohio railroad is the only one that has escaped serious damage and its trains are being operated with little delay.

Tracks of the Western Railway of Alabama between Montgomery and Milstead are covered with water and no trains are being operated further than Milstead. No trains have gone south from Montgomery on the Louisville and Nashville for nearly twenty-four hours.

Wires are down south of Greenville and a large washout near Floraton has been reported. It is impossible to detour trains by the Selma branch, as similar conditions exist there. Many washouts and landslides on the Seaboard Air Line and Atlantic Coast Line have been reported and the Central of Georgia is unable to operate trains because of a washout at Mitchell's and a landslide near Union Springs.

SPRING OPENING TUESDAY 18th.

Next Tuesday, the 18th, I will have my formal Spring opening. The ladies are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. M. A. Faulk. t17

What Must be Done to Destroy the Fly

1. Keep the stable, barn yard, and all enclosures where animals are kept, fairly clean by collecting all the manure daily and during warm weather removing it frequently to the fields where it belongs.

2. Build and maintain a sanitary, fly-proof privy. Remove the excreta frequently, disinfect it thoroughly with a strong solution of Carbolic acid or chloride of lime (the so-called bleaching powder) and then bury it deep, far away from the well, or better still burn it.

3. Keep a clean milking shed, and screen with wire netting and doors and windows of the dairy or place where the milk and butter are kept. Remember that flies can contaminate milk with the typhoid germ.

4. Keep a covered receptacle in the kitchen for the garbage. If the garbage is not used for feeding pigs and chickens it should, with all other trash and household waste, be burned or buried every day. Do not let such material accumulate or unsightly heaps about the yard.

5. Screen the doors of the kitchen, pantry and dining room. That is, whatever you do, keep the flies away from your food. If you need a reminder, remember where the germs come from.

6. When there is sickness in the house, protect the patient from flies by screening the doors and windows of the sick room, or by the use of mosquito bars. Good temporary screens can be easily made with a few strips of wood and cheesecloth or mosquito netting. Kill every fly you see in the sick room; every one that gets past may carry the disease to some one else.

7. Protect your baby from the fly, no matter what the cost. Remember that a baby cannot protect itself, and that you are responsible for the health and life of your baby.

8. "Clean up, Screen and Spray." Don't be content to live surrounded by filth and pestered by flies.

9. Teach your children to exterminate the fly. Instruct them in the modern methods of destroying all of the fly. They are entitled to know something of the danger that threatens them.

10. Join the crusade and help the fly; take up the slogan "SWAT THE FLY." Strive for a life of health and comfort, for of such is the kingdom from flies.

JIM LLOYD FOUND DEAD WITH THROAT CUT; HOMER AND CHARLES BRACKEN UNDER ARREST

In talking to one of the officers men he said that he and his brother were quite well acquainted with Lloyd, that he moved in that vicinity from Georgia, with his parents about the first of January, and while they were together yesterday he said he knew nothing as to who did the killing. The body is in one of Mr. Tribble's stores in Oak section.

Homer and Charles Bracken are young men, apparently 21 or 22 years old. Lloyd was about 18 years old.

The two boys were arrested by the sons of T. L. Bradley, one of the most prominent farmers of the section of the county and who has for years superintendent of Hutson school.

One of the men who attended the inquest stated to a Eagle representative that there could not be certified as to the facts.

Both young men are of good appearance and talk in a rather grand manner about the whole affair.

The reception announced for tomorrow night of the Y. M. C. A. for the new secretary, Mr. Frank A. [illegible] of Birmingham, has been postponed until next Friday night on account of the delay in the arrival of Mr. Dixon who is detained in city today at noon instead of last night as was expected. The committee on entertainment intends to carry out the original plans for the reception this morning. But when Mr. Dixon did not arrive during the night it was too late, and decided to postpone the reception as above stated.

Mr. Dixon has been connected with the Columbus, Ga., Y. M. C. SAINT PATRICK'S DAY.

Today is the day the Irish and their friends keep green the memory of St. Patrick, by the wearing of the green. Today you can tell an Irishman by his being perfectly rigged out wearing a shamrock.

Celebrating was born in St. Patrick in the British Province of Velentia. His father, a decurion in the Roman army, retired to a farm on the Irish coast, where, at the age of sixteen, Patrick was carried off by a band of marauders and sold as a slave to the Irish Chief of County Antrim. After six years he made his escape and, resolving to devote himself to the conversion of Ireland, became a monk for the priesthood.

Having been ordained a bishop and received the papal benediction from Celestine I, he went over to Ireland about the year 432. He is said to have found Christianity in Ireland, and converted all the Irish kings, and founded a great number of churches.

He died about 493. His Easter sermon on conclusion of his conversions and a letter addressed to a Welsh tribal chieftain, Coroticus, the robber of other Irish apostles, Patrick or Patricius, and Brian could [illegible] the same. It is said to be [illegible] upon confusion is the history of the early Irish church.

[illegible] H. L. Goff, of Hartford, was here a visitor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Petty of Columbia spent last night and a while this morning in the city.

GERMAN COUNCIL IS JAILED IN MEXICO FOR REFUSING LOAN

MAX MULLER THROWN IN JAIL NAT HERMOSILLO, SONORA AND HIS BANK SEIZED BY INSURGENT MEXICANS.

Tucson, Ariz., March 15.—Max Muller, German consular agent at Hermosillo, Sonora, and manager of the Banco de Sonora has been imprisoned by authorities of the insurgent Mexican state and the bank seized, say telegraph reports received here today.

Muller is said to have refused disbursements of state authorities attempting to negotiate a loan. The bank was raided, but only 2,100 pesos found. Muller having made some other provision for the safety of the funds.

The German consul is cut off from direct communication with his ambassador at Mexico City. He has sent out a direct appeal to the German ambassador at Washington.

Hensin's Men Defeating Rebels.

Nogales, Ariz., March 15.—Thoroughly beaten the contending forces by relatively the same positions as last night. On the approach of Obregon's troops about 8 o'clock, leading the constitutionalists nearly 1,000 strong, the two leaders sent to request to Ojeda to move south to meet them and to prevent any danger to Americans.

The federal commander with less than 500 men under his command at first declined the invitation, whereupon Calles and Obregon proceeded to move on the town. Before Ojeda evacuated.

Fearing for American citizens and troops on the Arizona line here General Ojeda shortly after 10 o'clock gave the order to evacuate the town. With his federal troops he marched away to the southeast leaving his bodyguards and civilian enemy twice his strength.

At 11 o'clock a fight was in progress two miles below the border, Ojeda's men changed to the top of a hill, dismounted and took skirmish positions. Calles' ground advanced from the south against the federal position.

A. A. Hopkins a deputy marshal was wounded in the leg while standing at the international line.

The firing was furious from the start. The federals once brought into play three field pieces and the rebel outposts retreated. The federals pressed forward encountering the main group of Calles' troops. Each force held its position, Obregon's group, which was advancing on Naco at the time of Ojeda's unexpected departure, then began moving to the aid of Calles.

The fighting scene this afternoon was nearly three miles south with the federals doggedly pressing forward. Ojeda has two rapid firers besides his field pieces.

WICKSBURG ITEMS.

Rain, rain, nothing but rain, and still it keeps coming. Much damage has been done the fresh broken lands. Roads are getting in very bad shape, almost impassable. In fact, they are so bad that the rural carriers are badly delayed and some days they don't get love at all. Thus it is seen that communication with the outside world is greatly impaired.

Birthday Party—

Saturday afternoon in spite of the inclemency of the weather was a happy occasion for the little neighborhood friends of Master Neill McCollum when he was the host of little love and gifts of his own age on the date of his seventh birthday After many interesting and exciting games the guests were invited into the dining room by their young host where his charming mother Mrs N H McCollum presided over the bright scene In the center of the table adorned the birthday cake in all the splendor of its seven candles Around the cake encircling the top of the prettily appointed table was erected a piece of candy with little Easter chicks perched at intervals and nest of brilliantly colored Easter eggs in the center. Delicious cakes and confections and ices served to make the afternoon complete in its round of pleasure for these fortunate little folks

Mrs Frank Wood of Principia Kentucky will arrive tomorrow to be the guest of her sister Mrs J W Harris on South Oates street

LOSS OF NITROGEN FROM MANURE SPREAD ON LAND

A Mississippi reader wants to know how much nitrogen is lost when stable manure is left on top of the land and does it pay?

There is probably not much loss of nitrogen into the air In fact the loss is practically nothing unless the manure is in active fermentation and there is much ammonia in it when applied In warm weather fermentation quickly stops on account of the drying of the manure and no further loss takes place In wet weather the rain leaches out some of the soluble nitrogen into the soil and some may be lost by leaching if there is no growing crop on the land although no more and probably not so much as would have been lost had the manure been plowed into the soil If the land is subject to washing or erosion some of the soil and manure may be lost but this was not probably more than would have been lost if it had been plowed under

There is another loss which may be greater than all others which is especially overlooked when the manure is plowed under It is well known that the clays and humus which make up the soil can fix some of the soluble nitrogen in the soil even though it may be lost if left on the surface. The humus, which is in the form of stable manure is the chief component for this exchange of solution. The insoluble phosphoric acid and potash in the soil have the effect of fixing the nitrogen in a manner by turning under and decomposing more rapidly

On the whole however it is
